

☆ PROPELLO

Propello was an event of making propulsion device with the use of compressed air. Material for construction was provided on the spot. Participants constructed the device within time limits. Propulsion rocket were powered with the help of pressurized water. Judging was done on the basis of time of flight, distance of path covered and trajectory of the device

